

CFMA's 2021 Annual Conference and Exhibition

Attention CFMA VoS Members
Those attending the 2021 Conference as a
First-Time Attendee may apply for a scholarship

At CFMA's Annual Conference & Exhibition, attendees have the opportunity to learn from industry experts during mini-conferences, general sessions, breakout sessions, construction technology forums, and round table discussions. In addition, attendees have numerous opportunities to network with peers and industry vendors at social events and the exhibition.

To diminish the spread of COVID-19, CFMA will present a hybrid conference from July 19-23, 2021. Attendees can virtually attend the conference from either the comfort of their home or office or at one of six locations across the U.S. In accordance with COVID-19 guidelines, each location will be limited to 100 attendees and will follow strict social distancing practices. The goal is twofold: allow a smaller group of members to meet in one of six cities while continuing to provide outstanding education with even more CPE credit than offered last year.

To apply, send your information to vosadmin@cfma.org by noon on July 12, 2021.
